'Read This, It's Interesting Information'

Almost the day we broke ground we began getting inquiries about these homes. Sefore we had them plastered they were selling. Today we announce them for the first time and only have one-half of them left. It is only reasonable to say one week from today the other half will be sold. We will not attempt to give a detailed description. What we want is to let the house exhibit itself—it's the best salesman we have. Come, see them while salesman we have. Come, see them while you have an opportunity to get one.
